PREFACE

The object for this work is to fill a blank space in family histories caused by the lack of any printed records of any branch of this family, excepting a few individual brief biographies in some of the local histories; also a desire to leave some record of our connection with this family.

The record is based on documentary and other legitimate evidence, we have accepted no traditional records at face value, where such records are mentioned they are so stated. We have recorded the facts as found without deviation or partiality. A considerable number of persons have been located who refused to furnish any information.

Some errors may have crept in, particularly in the case of living members who would not furnish accurate information of themselves, and as their records are second hand information they may not be accurate.

To those who have furnished information regarding themselves and others of their branch we herewith extend our thanks for their cooperation, each one has been credited in the body of this work for their assistance.

HISTORICAL

The coming of the principal character of this record and other Scotch Exiles to America and the reason therefor has been described by several authors. Notable is an article by Banks in Massachusetts Historical publication; an address delivered by the Reverend E.S. Stackpole at Berwick, Maine in 1913. Stackpole at his demise some 10 or more years later left an unpublished manuscript "The Scotch Exiles in New England" which is now in the Maine Historical Society library. Our brother officer and historian the late Colonel Charles E. Banks left a concise description and as an introduction to this record we are taking the liberty to quote a portion of chapter xvii, vol. i, History of York.

" ..... To the two victories of Cromwell with his Ironsides at Dunbar and Worcester we are indebted for about a dozen Highlanders sent over as 'prisoners' who became the founders of the settlement and parish which has ever since been known by the name of 'Scotland.' Their story furnishes one of the picturesque chapters in early New England history and ..... Having defeated the Royalists in England and beheaded the King in 1649 Cromwell proceeded to the conquest of Ireland where his fanatical 'Croppies' spent the following summer in turning that country into a bloody shambles. Defended and defenseless towns were laid low and his butcheries spared neither the armed or unarmed. The fanatical Puritan feeling that he had wiped out the hated Catholics for a generation at least, was aroused by a new challenge in his ruthless progress. The Scottish Parliament had proclaimed the youthful Prince Charles, then a fugitive at the Hague, as their King. The proclamation was provisional, however, requiring him to subscribe to their Covenant and accept Parliamentary direction in civil affairs and to the Presbyterian Assembly in ecclesiastical matters. Embarrassing as these terms were he decided to comply with them, and this situation created a new menace to the Commonweath and to Cromwell. With his veterans from Ireland as a nucleus the insatiable 'Noll' gathered an army of about 16,000, of which a third were mounted troops. With these he invaded the last kingdom remaining loyal to the Crown and reaching Edinburgh after some skirmishes, he marched his army to Dunbar, a town on the east Coast of Scotland just south of Firth of Forth. By this time his new levies were rapidly decreasing in numbers through disease and fatigue of the forced marches. Supplies could only reach him by sea at Dunbar as General David Leslie in command of the Scotch troops had siezed the passes which furnish the only retreat from Scotland to Durham and Berwick on Tweed.

"Leslie's troops out numbered Cromwell's army, but they were undisciplined clansmen of their Highland Chieftains unused to war in its technical aspects, and the Scottish general declined to give open battle hoping to starve out Cromwell then hemmed in a narrow peninsular of Dunbar.

"Meanwhile the young King Charles had arrived from Holland and joined this motley military organization to the great joy of the clansmen and made himself popular by sharing this rough camp life and engaging in some of the daily skirmishes of the out posts. These 'braw' laddies showed their preference for his leadership over the capped and gowned committee of argumentative Covenanters who were busy purging the force of unbelievers until they had eliminated all or most of its skillful soldiers. Then, satisfied that they had an army of approved saints, they demanded that the King retire from the front and leave the direction of the campaign to them. Wishing to take advantage of a favorable opportunity, Leslie proposed to attack Cromwell on Sunday but the fanatical dominies would not permit him to break the Sabbath even for this desirable purpose. Night and day these theological crusaders wrested with the Lord in prayer and finally had assurance in a 'revelation' that the Lord of Hosts would deliver Agag (Cromwell) into their hands. They ordered Leslie to attack. Descending from the heights of Lammermoor, which overlooked the camp of Cromwell, he reached the plain of Dunbar. Cromwell observing this movement, did not need any 'revelation' to tell him that the Lord of Hosts was about to deliver them into his hands. He had been waiting for that hour as his only salvation. He gave orders for an immediate attack in force and tho greatly inferior in numbers his disciplined troops soon showed their superiority over the untrained but brave clansmen. Leslie's army was routed and the cavalry of Cromwell pursued the disorganized Covenanters with great slaughter. The chief if not the only resistance to his onslaught was made by a regiment of Highlanders who fought with great desperation as they had learned from his conquest of Ireland the tales that Cromwell would put all men to the sword and thrust hot irons thru women's breasts. 3000 Scotchmen fell in this disaster with 10,000 prisoners, 5000 ablebodied prisoners marched to Durham and Newcastle on Tyne ....."

This battle was fought on 3 September 1650. Orders 11 November 1650 some 150 of them were transported to New England in the Unity; 60 were for the iron works and the others bound out in Massachusetts and New Hampshire for a period of 7 years.

Of those who were sent to New Hampshire who later settled in York and established the parish of Scotland that belonged to this group are Alexander Maxwell; Alexander McNair; Andrew Rankin; ROBERT JUNKINS; Thomas Holmes and Micum McIntire.

Almost to a day and one year later the battle of Worcester was fought with similar disaster to the Scotchmen and on 19 September 1651 some 900 prisoners were sent to Virginia and 150 to New England they came on the John and Sarah. Of those who were sent to New Hampshire and later settled in York County, Scotland parish are James Grant, the Drummer; James Grant, the Scotchman; John Carmichael; Daniel Dill and James Jackson. Daniel Livingston is also believed to be of this group.

SCOTLAND

Having shown the source whence our Scotch ancestor originated and reached these shores it will be well to make a few remarks on the origin of the Second Parish of York County, Maine.

That part of the Patent of Agamenticus situated north of Bass Creek and now called "Scotland" was not originally settled by the "Highland" prisoners. Their preponderance later caused it to be so called.

The division of 1641 some six shares above Bass Creek to the north west limits of the Patent were allotted, none of the parties settled there.

In 1653 the town began to grant tracts of land in this section several years before the first Scotch prisoner arrived in York. The first grantees were Richard Banks, Thomas Curtis, William Dixon, Rowland Young, Arthur Bragdon, Matthew Austin and John Alcock. None of these, except as noted, lived on or improved these lots. The only one of these grantees who ventured into this unpenetrated region was John Alcock, and from subsequent records he appears to have disposed of more holdings than were granted to him.

On 22 March 1654-55 John Alcock sold to Thomas Moulton 75 acres of land and on this land was a "small building" which was undoubtedly used as a swelling house. (i-63)

Moulton was the first actual settler in "Scotland." He resided here with his wife and family until 22 January 1656-57 when he sold to Alexander Maxwell (i-63) and took up his residence on Gorges Neck. The location of this house and lot can be identified, approximately, as part of the original ground of the 2d Meeting House on south west side of the road. With the departure of Moulton we have the first Scotchman in "Scotland." The others came intermittently up to 1670, the last one to come in being Micum McIntire, tho he had lived in Kittery from 1664.

GARRISON HOUSES

What was for many years known as Junkins Garrison was a house constructed of an over-hang type of architecture of the period.

We do not believe this was the original house of Robert Junkins but that it was constructed AFTER King Philip's War in 1675-76, as this was the first Indian trouble in this region.

It was never listed in the official records as a Garrison, and it is not known at what date this title was bestowed upon it. It was used as a swelling up to about 1870 and in 1872 Frank S. Church, of New York made a drawing of it which was used in an article in New England Register, (xxviii-269). This article dates this house as well as the McIntire Garrison as circa 1645 which is long before any records cover this region.

It was continuously in the Junkins family until it was destroyed by fire in 1889. The land was sold in 1892 to George E. Grant.

The house now known as the McIntire Garrison is definitely in record in 1690 and was on land owned by Alexander Maxwell; it was spoken of as "Maxwell's Garrison"; in 1692 and 1703 was called "Scotland Garrison"; and again in 1707 was so called; it was officially listed in 1711 as "Scotland Garrison." We do not know at what date this property came into possession of John McIntire. There are deeds covering adjoining lots but none for this particular lot is recorded.

SURNAME

While the names of some of the Scotch prisoners were spelled in every conceivable form they can be definitely analyzed and made to conform to present day names with one exception --

ROBERT JUNKINS

This name appears in the early records as ROBERT GUNKINS; ROBERD GUNKENSES; ROB. JUNKINS; ROBERT JUNKENSES and ROBERT JUNKINS. At no time does it occur as JENKINS and no branch of his descendants have ever claimed relationship with the REYNOLD JENKINS family of Maine.

We have always felt that JUNKINS is not the correct spelling of this name but have never found the original spelling. We have a letter written by Colonel Charles E. Banks in 1922 when he was in Scotland which states he made search of the calendar of wills at Edinburgh and Inverness but did not find the name of JUNKINS of record at any time, the only one of similar sound was one JONKINE, a miller, of Leith in 1580. He held the view that our JUNKINS was probably JONKINE, JOHNKIN, or JONIKIN.

There is no evidence this name was ever preceeded by a Mac at any time and in the absence of authentic evidence the name will remain as JUNKINS.

No attempt has been made to connect this family with that of one Joseph JUNKIN who settled in Pennsylvania about 1760 from Londonderry, Ireland.

ROBERT (1) JUNKINS

Born in Scotland circa 1621. Taken as a prisoner of war at the battle of Dunbar, September 1650, sent to Boston, Massachusetts as a prisoner and arrived about January 1650-51. Was bound out to a party in Dover, New Hampshire and there served his time, near seven years.

His name appears on a Tax List at Dover in 1657 and again in 1663. Some historians state "he probably remained there to about 1674." He no doubt owned land at Dover for which he was taxed in 1663, but documentary evidence is that he was a resident of YORK in province of Maine as early as 1661.

In July 1661 he signed a petition to the Massachusetts authorities with others as of "YORKE" charging **********

> "Your tollerating such an inconsiderable number of opposers frequently to violate & trample upon yr authority & Law as cannot be altogether unknown to you, to the obstruction of Justice: injuring our Libertys, deviding our peace & if not speedy prevented by your Worships may as the case stands share us in the bonds & Inextricable & predjudiciall Injuries upon whom under God & our dread sovereign wee looke att ourselves Ingaged at present to defend our security & reliefe." **********

On this list can be noted names of Scotchmen who lived in the immediate vicinity called Scotland with dates in extant land records: Alexander Maxwell 1657; James Grant, Sen. (later called the Drummer) 1660; James Grant, Jr. (later called the Scotchman) 1662; Alexander Machaneare 1666; Robert Junkins 1680.

On 12 November 1667 Minutes of Court: Where as upon examination of Andrew Raynking about his being the reputed father of Martha Merry's Child which before Mr. Edward Johnson & Edward Rishworth Jus: pe: the said Raynking owned that he was, wherefore upon And: Raynking was bound in 100 li bond to Mantayne the Child. Wee James Grant & Robert Junkins do Ingage ourselves in abond of 100 pounds to our sovereign Lord the King that said Andrew Ranking shall take an aeffectual Course to Mantayne that Child which Martha Merry is with all & to free the Town of Yorke from all charges which may accrew from the Mantenance thereof **********

Mr. Edw: Johnson affirmes that hee Married Andrew Ranking the 4th day of December 1667 whereby the said Rankine is acquitted from his bond. (Ct. rec. i-305)

This record shows Robert Junkins evidently owned land to be a bondsman for 100 pounds. The above is documentary evidence he was living at York prior to 1764, historians notwithstanding.

From what source he obtained the land upon which he lived is not of record. Maxwell and James Grant, Senior, both owned land adjoining. Our surmise is that Maxwell sold this land as he was the largest holder and some of his land is unrecorded as to the source of acquisition and disposition. The twenty odd missing pages in the Deed Book i would, no doubt, clear several of these points. There are other parcels of land in the immediate vicinity of the Junkins homestead that are clouded as to source. In some of these where deeds cover there appears a name as once owner who does not show in extant records as possessor.

Whether this land had a dwelling thereon when purchased is unknown. Our belief is there was a small house thereon and AFTER the Indian trouble of 1675-76, King Philip's War, he constructed a more substantial dwelling similar to the house built by Maxwell and now known as the McIntire Garrison. This house was of the heavy over-hang type of architecture of the period and this type was used as late as 1740. This house many years later was called Junkins Garrison but was never listed officially as a garrison.

He was married prior to 1670 to Sarah, daughter of John Smyth, of Cape Neddick, she was born 1645.

Inventory on the estate of James Jackson, his brother-in-law, who married Elizabeth Smyth and both killed by Indians 25 September 1676 at Cape Neddick, was made in 1676 and on 27 November 1677 a statement of payments on his debts includes item:

To Robt Junkenses ..... 3.9.0 pounds. (v-19)

In a court of July 1678 the Grand Jury, John Wheelwright, foreman, presented "Robert Junkins for selling sider by Retayle." (v pt.2-27)

On 24 March 1680 Alexander and Annis Maxwell deeded to Robert Junkins for 16 pounds & other considerations, 20 acres of land between the way to Newguvanacke and Bass Cove Brook in York; also, a parcel of land where now said Junkins orchard is placed and his barn standeth, provided sd Junkins is to maintain a partition fence between Alexander Maxwell & himself during full term of said Maxwell's life, etc. Sworn to 10 June 1681. (iii-119) Note by compiler: This 20 acres of land was to the north-west of the home site and not adjoining; the 20 acres subsequently granted to his three sons was adjoining this lot; the parcel of land with the orchard and barn adjoined the homesite.

Also in 1680 Robert Junkins had a town grant of 32 acres: "On North East side of Highway at the head of a cove of marsh cald by the name of Thomas Curtiss Cove and adjoining to the Norwest side of a Lott of upland of Micum Mackenteers in length." (Town records) Note: This 32 acres is definitely accounted for and is NOT the homestead lot. Daniel Junkins built a house on it and lived thereon. See deed of division 1721-22 quoted in full under Alexander Junkins.

His name appears in a number of deeds by others as boundary, etc. One of these is a deed by Maxwell to Grant in 1707 for 6A on North side of Highway to Berwick, "Robert Junkins on east side where his house now standeth," etc. (vii-97)

Whether he had any part in King Philip's War 1675-76 is not of record. The records are also silent as to him during the time of the Massacre of 1692 tho the family appears intact after that affair. He dated his will 2 March 1696-97, and died late in November or early in December 1699.

Inventory returned 3 December 1699 at 93.13.0 pounds by Matthew Austine and Arthur Bragdon, Senr., appraisers. Will recorded 2 January 1699.

The place of his burial is not of record. His children are NOT named in his will and indications are there were others who were deceased at the date of the will.

The instructions of the will were carried out explicitly. The lands and homestead passed to Sarah who survived him many years. She appears in a Court record 3 January 1715 in case of John Wheelwright, William Parsons, Eliphat Coffain and his wife Judith versus Samuel Webber concerning land at Cape Neddick. In an affidavit she testifies she is 70 years old and a daughter of John Smyth, etc. (Ct. rec. vi-193)

She died 20 March 1718 at the Junkins House, death recorded at York, place of burial not known. Alexander, oldest surviving son inherited the homestead and the first deed record of this lot of land is 9 February 1721-22 when Alexander and Daniel Junkins made agreement about division of their father's estate.

This homestead remained in Junkins possession until destroyed by fire in 1889 and the land was sold to George E. Grant about 1892.

SMITH EXCURSUS

JOHN (1) SMYTH

This person has by some historians been confused with a John SMITH who was a servant of John Alcock, an early settler of York, who ran away from his master in 1640 and captured and punished, etc.

According to a deposition of his in late life he was born circa 1612. From whence he came to America is not of record. We first find him listed at Saco, Maine where he was involved in a lawsuit 7 February 1636-37. He was a carpenter by trade and was in all probability sent over by Trelawney. He was a Grand Juror at Saco 1640; purchased lands of Vines 8 April 1642. He married prior to 1645 Joane Ormsby, born 1623 England, a daughter of Richard Ormsby and his 1st wife. Said Richard Ormsby gave his daughter a lot with dwelling thereon in Agamenticus as a dowry, etc. He was Marshal at Saco in 1645; removed to Casco Mill under George Cleaves and on 8 June 1646 was sued for debt by Henry Walton, of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, 30 pounds and liquidated same by a deed of a lot in Agamenticus with a dwelling house "wch sd Jon hath in Dowry with his wife Joane". Exact location not stated and no bounds described. (i-33) There are several assignments on the back of this deed, the last one being Thomas Venner, of Boston, by Attorney, to Edward Start 25 July 1653. From the Start record and subsequent deeds this land is definitely placed on Ferry Neck, York river.

From Casco Mill they returned to Saco and then moved to York where they were living when he took the oath of allegiance 5 July 1653, listed as resident of York. He had some lands by Town Grant which were recorded 11 November 1654.(T.R.i-73)

On 11 November 1657 Edward Wanton sold the two lots he purchased of Godfrey to John Smyth, "my brother-in-law who has been several years in possession of same", etc. (i-64) Wanton left his cattle with Smyth "to keep to halves." (S.J.ct.11540)

He signed the petition to Cromwell in 1656; was convicted of Slandering John Donnell in 1660; was one of the signers of petition to Massachusetts authorities 1661-62 as of York; sued Jeremiah Sheers for Slandering and got a verdict in 1665; was a Juror in 1666 signed the petition against Gorges in 1668.

He was official executioner 1679 to 1684. On 23 May 1674 John Smyth, Senr. & wife Joane deeded to son John all property on condition of his rendering certain services, support, etc. (ii-159)

Joane died sometime between 1674 and 1680. He married (2) before May 1682 Mrs. Mary Clarke, widow of Edward Clarke, of Portsmouth, and a daughter of George Farrow, of Wells, Maine. (N. H.deeds iv-31b)

On 3 May 1682 John Smyth Sr., and Mary his wife sold 80 acres of land at Wells to William Sawyer, which came to her from her father George Farrow, etc. This deed acknowledged 3 November 1682. (lv-4)

On 1 August 1684 John Smyth, Senr. confirms a deed to John Smyth Junr. made 23 May 1674 by John & Joan Smyth, his former wife, & his mother, etc. (iv-19)

On 23 June 1685 he "deposed, aged about 73 years, respecting a case which occurred under him as Marshal 40 years ago, at Saco. (Deeds iv)

On 1 March 1686-87 John and Mary Smyth deeded to Samuel Bankes 40 acres of land for 13 pounds, etc., Mary acknowledged 14 July 1686. (iv-54)

He died before February 1687-88 as on 3 February 1687-88 John Smyth, Junior and Mary, widow, divided the estate of John Smyth, Senior. (iv-78)

ii Elizabeth: b 164-. She married prior to 1667 James Jackson. He was one of the Scotch prisoners of the battle of Worcester, 3 Sept. 1651 and transported to Boston in the John and Sarah about Jan. 1651-52 and sent to Dover, N.H. He was freed from training 27 July 1661 "by reason he hath lost one of his fingers." (N. H. deeds ii-576) He was taxed in Dover 1663 but shortly removed to York. In answer to a petition of John Smyth, Sen. the court authorized the town of York "to lay him & his son, James Jackson out some Convenient Tracts of Land free from other grants."

On 12 June 1667 Jackson was granted 28 acres of upland lying next to fathers, John Smyth, and on 1 May 1671 Jackson "liveing up Cape Nuttucke River where Henry Sayword hath built a saw mill" made exchange of lots with his father Smyth. (iii-130) On 13 Aug. 1674 he was granted 30 acres of land "beyond Cape Neddeck." He and his wife with two children were killed by the Indian attack on Cape Neddick 25 Sept. 1676 while his eldest daughter escaped.

His estate was administered 25 Oct. 1676 by his father-in-law, John Smyth, Sen. Inventory for 87.11.0 pounds. They had:

1 Elizabeth Jackson: b ca 1667. How she escaped from the Indians is not of record. On 16 July 1685 she acquitted her uncle John Smyth, Jun. from any demands from herself on account of her father's estate. (deeds vii-262)

2 Child: b 167-.

3 Child: b 167-. Both killed by Indians in 1676.

iii John (2): b 165-. Was a mariner; removed to Gloucester where he married and left children.

ORMSBY EXCURSUS

RICHARD (1) ORMSBY

This surname is derived from the words "orme", meaning elm, and "by" meaning town - the original signifying being "village in the elms." There remains a village in Yorkshire, a relic of the ancient use as a place name. The Ormsby family claim Norman descent and it is found that when William the Conqueror invaded England there was then living in Lincolnshire a family of Ormsbys headed by Richard Ormsby who, with others of his family, became a follower of the Conqueror. Richard was rewarded by William the Conqueror by grants of lands and manor houses in Lincolnshire, and the chief bestowed upon him a coat of arms. Sir Oswald Ormsby, the eldest son of Richard became the head of the family and founded the priory of Ormesby during the reign of Henry II. The name is found in many sections of the country.

The Ormsby family held many manors during the centuries following the conquest of England by William, and various members of the family have contributed materially to English history. In Great Britain the name is usually spelled Ormesby, but in America it has been spelled Ormsby, Armsby, Amesby, and Amesbury

Richard Ormsby was the founder of a branch of this family in America. We have made no attempt to definitely connect Richard with the English antecedents.

There appears to be a good account of this man from the time he settled at Salisbury, Massachusetts in 1645, but little is said in that record of his previous history in the colony.

He was born circa 1602 in England and was married prior to 1623 to ....., no record extant concerning her name or parentage. He came to Massachusetts Colony and settled near Saco, province of Maine, and was there sometime prior to 1640, his wife was deceased about 1639 and he married (2) prior to 1641 Sarah Wanton, a widow, who came to Saco, Maine from London in the late 1630's, she had a son at the time of this marriage. Nothing is known of her parentage nor does the name of Wanton appear in the early records until her son, Edward, buys land in 1651.

In or about 1640 George Cleaves instituted suit against John Winter for possession of Richmond Island; Winter filed suit against Cleaves for defamation of character of his wife. In 1641 the two suits were submitted to arbitration by Robert Jordan, Arthur Mackeworth, Arthur Brown and RICHARD ORMSBY, with Stephen Batcheller as Umpire. ((Jordan was from Richmond Island, Brown, Batcheller and ORMSBY were from Saco.) This jury found "that ye house and land shall bee unto Mr. Winter & 60 pounds sterling to the plaintiff and shall presently bee made good." In the case of defamation Cleaves lost and was compelled to acknowledge his error to the arbitrators and afterwards to Mrs. Winter personally. (Ct. rec.)

Ormsby owned two lots at York about this time and soon removed from Saco to York. How he obtained his lots at York is not of record, perhaps deeds are among the missing 20 odd pages of Deed Book i. There is, however, substantiating evidence of ownership of this land:

1. On 8 June 1646 John Smyth & wife Joane were sued for debt by Henry Walton of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, 30 pounds and liquedated the same by a deed of a lot in Agamenticus with a dwelling house, wch sd Jon hath in Dowry with his wife Joane." (Exact location not stated nor bounds described. i-33) There are several assignments on the back of this deed, the last one being Thomas Venner, of Boston, by Attorney, to Edward Start, 25 July 1653. Start's record and subsequent deeds definitely locate this house and lot on "Ferry Neck", York.

2. That he had another house in York and undoubted lived there a few years at least is also evidenced; On 17 February 1651 Rice Howell sold to Abm Preble land on opposite side of the river from the "Dowry Lot", "bounded from the Cove lying opposite to the house formerly known by the name of Richard Ormsby house, and aforesaid Cove being called by the name of Little Cove up to that point of land called Eddy Point, and so into the Country s.s.w., 12 acres, etc."

Preble sold this land in 1679 to John Stover, same description used.(iii-58) In 1684 Stover sold to Thomas Wise, same description (viii-201). Wise sold to Isaac Guttridge in 1685 using the same terms (viii-132). In 1720 John Adams, of Kittery, heir of Guttridge sold to Mathias Young, same bounds described, etc. (x-23)

He gave to his daughter, Joan, prior to 1645 the house and lot subsequently called the Dowry Lot. There does not appear any record of disposition of the other lot which was opposite to the lot sold by Howell in 1651. He removed to Salisbury, Massachusetts about 1645 where he appears in records 1645-1648-1652-1656-1658 and 1660; was in Haverhill 1649-1653-1662; was at Rehobeth 1663 when he sold land to Robert Pike and died in 1664 at Rehobeth; inventory of estate 3 July 1664. No mention of the death of Sarah. From the age of her son, Edward Wanton, as shown by record Sarah was born circa 1610.

He signed the submission in 1652. John Smyth, his brother-in-law, was in York in 1653 and evidently lived on Wanton's land as on 11 Nov. 1657 Wanton sold the 2 lots he bought of Godfrey to John Smyth, "my brother-in-law, who hath beene several years in possession of same", etc. (i-64)

PART I.

JOSEPH (2) JUNKINS

(Robert 1.) Born in Scotland, York County, Maine in 1672 and there spent his childhood days. When he attained his majority he removed to Dover, New Hampshire where he was granted a small parcel of land in 1694 and tried his hand at farming. He disposed of this land and returned to York and leased a parcel of land from John Frost and established a farm thereon, see deposition of John McIntire below. About 1704 Joseph, Alexander and Daniel Junkins had a town grant of some 20 acres or so "all the land between the head of Robert's lot and Bass Cove Brook." (Town records)

On 14 December 1705 he was deeded by Walter Burks 2 acres of marsh land on the York River. This deed not recorded until 1709. (vii-228) This is his first appearance in deed records.

On 27 July 1709 he was deeded by John Parker, Senior, of of York 1½ acres of land for 7 pounds, etc. (vii-229)

Prior to 1710 he was married to Abigail Lewis, the young widow of Morgan Lewis, and a daughter of John Ingersoll, she had a son at the date of this marriage. From Old Kittery and Her Families, Stackpole, we learn: "John Ingersoll (Ingersall, Ingerson), son of George of Falmouth, and grandson of Richard of Bedfordshire, England, and Salem, Massachusetts, granted land in Kittery; married Deborah, born 1645, a daughter of Hugh Gunnison. He died in 1716. On 28 July 1728 Deborah Ingersoll 83 years old deposed that she lived at Falmouth 50 years since on a farm lying upon Casco River. A daughter of Abigail married Joseph Junkins about 1710."

On 21 March 1710-11 Daniel McIntire deeded to Joseph and Alexander Junkins 20 acres of swamp land in York, sworn to 23 March 1710-11 and recorded 1 January 1716-17. (viii-194)

On 2 April 1711 Joseph Junkins and a companion, Daniel Dill, were killed in an Indian attack at York. The Boston News Letter of 9th April 1711 carries the following:

"Piscatauqua April 6th on Tuesday last five Skulking Indian Enemy killd two men about Scotland Garrison at York vizt.; Daniel Dill and Joseph Junkins, the last whereof they almost stript and scalpt and after the Enemy withdrew, they supposing him dead, Junkins arose and marched to the Garrison and gave an account of the action and lived about ten hours afterwards."

His name is frequently mentioned in subsequent deed records as deceased, and in connection with boundaries, etc. Abigail survived him and married (3) prior to January 1712-13 Ebenezer Blaisdell, born 29 December 1686. Administration granted to Ebenezer Blaisdell & Abigail, his wife, on estate of Joseph Junkins, former husband of Abigail, 6 January 1712-13. (Prob rec. vol. ii) No data on death of Abigail.

DEPOSITION OF JOHN McINTIRE

I well Remeber that near forty years ago Joseph Junkins improved a parcell of land in York in that part called Scotland where James Grant, Junr. now Improves which land was reputed to be John Frosts of the Isle of Shoals which land I have heard Alexander Maxwell say that Joseph Junkins declared to me several times that he hired the land of John Frost and had a lease of it, and soon after the said Junkins was killed old Mr. James Grant came into possession of it. And I have heard the said Grant say he had bought it of Samuel Frost and that the aforesaid Old Mr. Grant or his son James has been in possession of it to this day. The Deponent adds that it is the same land Demanded in the writ wherein Wm. Fox is plt. and Joseph Moody and James Grant Junr. are Defendts. April 1744. (S.J.Ct. 58415)

2 JOHN (3) JUNKINS

(Joseph 2, Robert 1.) Born Scotland, York County, Maine 11 September 1711 some months after his father's tragic death.

He was reared in the home of his step-father Blaisdell. On 1 October 1728 a guardian was appointed for him and soon there after he went before the Court and chose Micum McIntire for his guardian. (Prob. rec. 1728)

On becoming of age he was legal heir to his father's lands. On 30 January 1737-38 John Junkins, of York, laborer, deeded to Joseph Came 17 acres of land for 85 pounds. This was a part of his father's land. On the same date Ebenezer Blaisdell & his wife, Abigail, quit-claimed to Joseph Came for 3 pounds current money all right of Dower, etc. to said land. (xviii-282) He was a witness to several deeds not relevant to this record. He married about December 1740, published 6 December 1740, Sarah Beal, born 17--, resided in Scotland Parish where he died 21 November 1748. His estate was administered by his half-brother, Nathaniel Lewis, 2 January 1748-49. (Prob. record 1746-49) Guardian was appointed for Mary and Margaret, and later on for Sarah. (Prob. rec. 1753-58)

There is no subsequent record of Sarah, the widow.

Children:

i Sarah: b 8 Nov. 1742.

ii Mary: b 2 June 1744.

iii Margarette: b 2 Oct. 1746. She married 19 June 1767 Joel Allen, residence not known.

PART II

ALEXANDER (2) JUNKINS

(Robert 1.) Born in Scotland, York County, Maine in 1675-1676. Of his childhood and early manhood little is known nor is his name found in records of the massacre of 1692. The first definite record of him is: On 28 October 1700 Samuel Johnson and Abigail, his wife, deeded to Alexander Junkins, of York, for 7 pounds, 10 acres of land in York, on the east side of the brook, said 10 acres of land given by James Grant, decsd, to his then wife and who is now married to the said Johnson. Deed sworn to the same date. (vi-77)

He was married prior to 1701 to Catherine, a daughter of James and Margaret Stackpole, born circa 1683.

On 6 March 1702 Jeremiah and Mary Moulton, of York, deeded 12 acres of land to Alexander Junkins, deed sworn to 26 March 1703 and recorded 29 March 1704. (vii-2)

On 1 December 1702 he made a bond to Jeremiah Moulton for 20 pounds to maintain a fence on the line, etc., sworn to 26 March 1703 and recorded 3 August 1719. (ix-219)

In or about 1704 Joseph, Alexander and Daniel Junkins had a town grant of 20 acres, "all the land between the head of Robert's lott to Bass Cove Brook."

On 21 August 1706 he was deeded by Joseph Young, 2 acres of salt marsh; sworn to 17 October 1707 and recorded 1 January 1716-17. (viii-193)

On 2 July 1706 Jeremiah Dummer, of Boston, deeded him two tracts of salt marsh in York, on south west branch of York River, 2 acres and 1 acre respectively, and called "Dummer's Marsh" for 5 pounds; sworn to at Boston 21 October 1707 and recorded at York 12 June 1727. (xii-167)

On 5 June 1707 Alexander and Sarah Maxwell deeded to James Grant land "bounded by land of Robert Junkins, decsd, and easterly where sd Junkins house now standeth, etc., then in possession of sons of said Robert Junkins." (vii-96) This tract of land is known to be next to the lot upon which the Junkins Garrison, so called, stood.

On 1 April 1708 Daniel and Elizabeth Dill deeded to him 37 acres of land above Scotland Garrison in York, sworn to 1 January 1716-17. (viii-193) This Scotland Garrison is what is now known as the McIntire Garrison.

On 23 September 1709 he deeded to Daniel McIntire, of York, 5 acres of land, etc. sworn to and reorded same date as above and was signed, Alexander Junkins, his mark. (vii-125)

On 21 March 1710-11 Daniel MacIntire, of York deeded to Alexander and Joseph Junkins, of York, 20 acres of swamp land in York; sworn to 23 March 1710-11, recorded 1 January 1716-17. (viii-194)

On 12 January 1713 he was witness to two deeds. (viii-111)

On 10 May 1711 Arthur and Sarah Bragdon deeded him 20 acres of marsh land for 10 pounds; sworn to 1 January 1716 recorded same date. (viii-191)

On 6 September 1717 John and Mary Sayword deeded him 20 acres of land for 40 pounds; sworn to 14 May 1718 and recorded 2 July 1718. On 28 June 1720 Alexander Junkins and John Carlile, of York deeded to Dr. Alexander Bulman, of York, a parcel of land having been laid out to Joseph Carlile, decsd, father of said John, on 6 May 1700, 30 acres of which was granted 16 October 1696, and the other 10 acres granted to John Main, 1 May 1695, etc. This deed was not proven until 26 August 1727, and was recorded 12 September 1729. (xiii-112) Alexander Junkins took no chances of having proof that he signed this deed, i.e.: "witnesses to Alexander Junkins signature - Nathan Lieman, Thomas Huchison, Ebenezer Coburn, Joseph Simpson and Jedediah Preble."

One of the most convincing records of evidence that the Junkins home stood where the cellar of the old Garrison House is visible is the following: On 9 February 1721-22 is recorded

AGREEMENT, ALEXANDER JUNKINS and DANIEL JUNKINS

Whereas there never as yet hath been a final Settlement between them of the land & Marsh that each of them does now enjoy which did formerly belong unto ye Father, Robert Junkins late of York, decsd, but now they the sd Alexander & Daniel have concluded & do hereby agree & conclude that the sd Alexander Junkins shall have the Homestead that was their sd father's where he did live in sd York at a place called Scotland upon the Northeast side of the Highway where the sd Alexander Junkins now liveth according to the Buts & Bounds hereof in all & every & one acre of salt marsh lying by the Perlings of York River together with all Rights Titles & Priviledges & appurtenances belonging thereunto to him the sd Alexander Junkins &

On 2 May 1722 he was deeded by Daniel Junkins 20 acres of land which was granted to Alexander Junkins, Joseph Junkins, decsd, and Daniel Junkins, as addition to Home Lot of Robert Junkins, our decsd Father, on the Northeast side of Highway to York, etc. sworn to 5 February 1728-29. (xiii-9)

(xiii-7-8) Note statement concerning these deeds in the will of Alexander Junkins herewith included.

On 11 October 1729 Alexander Junkins and Peter Grant witnessed a deed of William Shaw to Leavitt, etc. (xiii-688)

On 8 June 1731 Alexander Junkins and Josiah Plack witnessed a deed by Caleb Preble to Peter Jr. and Ebenezer Nowell, of York, (xiv-174). On 29 May 1732 Alexander Junkins deeded to John Carlile a tract of land, etc. Recorded 1 June 1732. (xv-51)

In 1732 a distribution of shares of "Commons" in the town of York and Alexander Junkins, Senr. received eight shares.

On 25 December 1732 his land is mentioned in a deed. (xv-148)

We do not find any mention that he was active in politics or that he ever held any public office. While it is probable he was called to defend the community during the Indian attacks there is no specific mention of his name in this connection.

2 JOSEPH (3) JUNKINS

(Alexander 2, Robert 1.) Born Junkins House, Scotland, York County, Maine 22 October 1701. He married 1 July 1725 Patience Lord, born 21 March 1705, daughter of Nathan Lord born 13 May 1681 and Margaret Hearl, married in 1704. Patience was the eldest of 13 children. He was evidently given land at the date of his marriage tho no deed is of record. His homestead was some distance north west of the original Junkins House and north east of what is now known as the Highland Farm which was partly Junkins land until recently. The old cellar is still to be seen. This Joseph Junkins homestead is claimed by some to be the original Robert Junkins home, however, evidence is against the claim. Note the description and bounds of the land in his will.

He owned land in Lebanon, York, etc., the Lebanon land evidently came thru his wife as Nathan Lord lived there. In 1735 his father devised him the land whereon he now lives some 70 acres.

He was a farmer and appears never to have held any public office.

4 JOSEPH (4) JUNKINS

(Joseph 3, Alexander 2, Robert 1.) Born 15 February 1727-28 at or near Berwick at the home of his grandparents. He appears to have been of a reticent type and records concerning him are somewhat meager. He was Private 1st Troop of Horse, Colonel Pepperrell's Regiment, 1757.

He married 4 July 1757 Tabitha, a daughter of John Nowell and Tabitha Came, born 2 February 1736-37, and a granddaughter of Peter Nowell. They resided near the homestead of his father and were members of the 2d Congregational Church, Scotland Parish and his pew passed to his father after his death. There is some indication this marriage was not fully approved by his father and the widow's remarriage added to the unpleasantness.

Joseph died intestate about 1768 and adminstration granted to his widow, Tabitha, her bondsmen were James Junkins, Junior, her brother-in-law, and Edward Emerson. (Prob. rec. 10678.)

Tabitha survived him and married (2) 23 April 1774 Captain James Carlisle, of Biddeford. She was a widow again in 1798 when on the 8 March, widow Carlisle appointed Joseph Junkins, of York with power of attorney to begin an action against Daniel W. Nowell for trespass on a way reserved as part of her Dower or Thirds, etc., also to prosecute any other trespasser. On 24 March 1798 there is an agreement signed by Daniel W. Nowell and Joseph Junkins, attorney to widow Carlisle, covering this action which eliminated a court action. Original documents in possession of a descendant of Joseph Junkins, No. 13. No data on death of Tabitha. No children.

5 SAMUEL (4) JUNKINS

(Joseph 3, Alexander 2, Robert 1.) Born Scotland, York County, Maine 26 October 1735. He was devised several parcels of land and marsh by his father.

He married in December 1764 Hepzibah Preble, born 31 August 1739, they were members of the 2d Parish Church and resided on the homestead of his father and there spent their entire lives. He died 7 February 1791, of cancer, and his estate inventoried in 1791. (Prob. rec.)

Hepzibah survived him and was living in 1800, date of her death not known. His name does not appear in any public records as an office holder nor in any military record.

Children: (known)

11 i Samuel (5): b 1769.
ii Hepzibah: b 177-, died small.
12 iii Joseph (5): b 4 Sept. 1773.
iv Sarah: b 177-. She was living in 1840 and died before 1850, unmarried.

6 JAMES (4) JUNKINS

(Joseph 3, Alexander 2, Robert 1.) Born in Scotland, York County, Maine in 1740. He shows in several records as James Junkins, JUNIOR, to distinguish him from his uncle of the same name.

He married Abigail Shaw, published 29 May 1766. He was a bondsman in the administration of his brother Joseph's estate 1768-69. Was a farmer and resided on land devised him by his father. Abigail was evidently deceased before October 1801 when he made his will. A rather unusual fact of this will is he makes NO MENTION of his daughters. He died in 1801 after 3 October and his estate was administered by the executors named in his will.

WILL OF JAMES JUNKINS

I James Junkins of York in the County of York, yeoman, do hereby make my last Will and Testament, as follows, viz:

9 PAUL (4) JUNKINS

(Alexander 3, Alexander 2, Robert 1.) Born York County, Maine 16 May 1739 and he first saw the light in the old homestead, Junkins Garrison. In this vicinity he spent his boyhood days and appears to have acquired an education somewhat above the average for that day and time.

In some manner he became a visitor at the home of Honorable Rishworth Jordan, of Biddeford, who had six daughters, Paul's attraction seems to have been Sarah, b 1748 who was some years his junior. After several years of attention they were married on 10 September 1769, intention published 17 August 1769, and made their home in Pepperrellboro. They lived in a house nearly opposite that of Joseph Calef, Esquire, where the old road from Gray's met the ferry road. The point in the river previously called "Pipe Stave" was known as "Junkins Point" after he settled in that vicinity. He was a mariner and Captain of a sea going vessel.

As early as 1774 Pepperrellboro was alive to conditions and the first Committee of Correspondence was chosen 9 November 1774: Tristram Jordan; PAUL JUNKINS; Deacon Amos Chase; James Foss; and James Scammon.

Messrs. Cutts and JUNKINS appointed at the same time "Delegates for a County Congress."

A separate Committee of Inspection was raised "to see that the several Resolves of the Continental, Provincial, and County Congresses be complied with in sd Pepperrellboro," consisting of: T. Jordan, Esq.; Deacon A. Chase; Robert Patterson; Deacon S. Scammon; Joseph Libby; Humphrey Pike; and Dominicus Scamman.

The Committee of Correspondence, Inspection and Safety in 1776 were: Tristram Jordan, Esq.; Amos Chase; Deacon S. Scamman; Joseph Bradbury; and Richard Burke.

The Committee of Safety and Correspondence for 1780 were: Captain PAUL JUNKINS; Elisha Ayer; Nicholas Dennet; James Foss; and Thomas Dearing. (Town Records; Hist. Saco, Folsom, 281-282.)

Paul Junkins appears to have maintained his activities on these various committees until the close of the war.

He died intestate in 1787 and his estate was administered by his widow, Sarah, 28 June 1787. (Prob. rec. 10694.) A guardian was appointed for Abigail, Alexander, Olive and Lucy, Sarah and Hannah, their children on 14 November 1792. (Prob. rec. 10698.) Division of the estate was made in 1795, widow and eight children named as heirs with one son named as deceased, etc.

Sarah married (2) 19 January 1796 Peter Ayres, of Buxton, his 2d wife, and by whom she had no children. Date of her death is not known. All children baptized 1st church of Saco.

11 SAMUEL (5) JUNKINS

(Samuel 4, Joseph 3, Alexander 2, Robert 1.) Born in York County, Maine in 1769. He married (1) 26 October 1793 Patty Barnard, born in 1775. They resided in Scotland Parish where he engaged in farming and lived a peaceful life until the appearance of the sect called "Cochranites". The founder, Jacob Cochran, when about 35 years old began his activities at Fryeburg in 1816 and was in the grocery business up to the time he had a "call to preach." This delusion did not have a foothold in York, but appears to have had considerable following in Kennebunk, Buxton, Saco, and New Gloucester. Cochran was tried and found guilty of gross lewdness, lacivious behavior and adultery in February 1819 at Saco, bonded for $1800 for appearance before the Supreme Court in May. He left town and bond forfeited; was apprehended and removed to State Prison at Charlestown in November. He later returned to Maine and was at Cape Neddick in 1834 and in September 1835 established a "convent" at Stratham, New Hampshire.

Junkins who became a follower of this sect and one of the shining lights, attempted to establish a new organization under his control about 1823 but did not meet with great encouragement. The following notice was posted on the Baptist church:

NOTICE

At a Baptist Meeting House, York, on the Lord's Day next the House will be free for the Sons and Daughters of Zion to wait on the Lord and honor him that hath made them free, also, the Family of Egypt may have another opportunity to come up to Jerusalem to keep the feast in Tabernacles or, if they refuse they must not expect to have any rain of the Spirit on them. Hypocrites, Mongrels and Lepers are desired to withdraw.

Samuel Junkins, Servant of the Church of Christ in York August 1, 1823.

Patty appears to have passed on about 1822 and we have no information regarding her attitude toward this new doctrine. Samuel on or about June 1823 was "spiritually united" to Mrs. Olive Williams, born 1789 but this defiance of the laws both morally and statutory was so bitterly denounced that they thought it prudent to be legally married, or as they expressed "united after the manner of the beast", and were legally married 27 January 1824.

At the October term of court of Common Pleas in 1824 Samuel was fined $20.00 and costs, in all about $40.00 and his wife $5.00 and costs in all about $39.00 "for willfully disturbing a meeting held at the Baptist Meeting House in York on the Lord's Day.

He was the author of some literature of the Cochranites, notably the following:

Samuel Junkins and Mrs. Olive (Williams) ["They were very much at a loss for a name for me", i.e. her persecutors. I was called Olive Williams, alias Olive Doe, strangling woman."] Junkins.

"The Dealings/ of a/ Few of the Church at York who call themselves christians,/with/ Samuel Junkins and his wife/ together with/ a short sketch of her own/ Christian Experience/ written by her own hand. If thou hast run with the foolmen and they have/ wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with/ horses? And if in the land of peace, wherein thou/ trustedst, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in/ the swelling Jordan —Scripture Printed for the Author/ 1825."

This is a part of the casual literature produced by the Cochranites and has no literary value.

That Samuel let his delusion run rampant is evident by a will he drew up in his own hand writing in 1840:

Samuel and Olive Junkins.

The above document was filed in the county court house by himself 5 January 1845. It was NOT admitted to probate after his death. He died 18 November 1845 and his estate was administered by Olive, his widow, 2 March 1846 with Josiah Bragdon, Alexander McIntire, and Joseph P. Junkins as appraisers. (Prob. Rec. 10701.) It is not known the date of death of Olive. She is not listed in the County in 1850 Census; this is not proof she was deceased.

He became deluded, like so many, in the Cochran craze, he left his wife, who seems to have had no fellowship with the doctrines and practices of the "Cochranites", and took unto himself the "Spiritual wife." It is assumed that life was not particularly pleasant for the followers of this sect and some of them left the state and settled in Allegheny Co., N.Y. About 1838 Martha and her family removed to N.Y. and joined the colony. Here he engaged in farming. We have no information concerning the death of the first wife, or if there was a divorce; no record of the marriage of Martha and Joseph. 20 ALEXANDER (5) JUNKINS

(Alexander 4, Alexander 3, Alexander 2, Robert 1.) Born in the Junkins Garrison, Scotland Parish, York County, Maine, in March 1785. He married (1) Judith Moulton, born 1791, intention dated 15 December 1810. He inherited the homestead and all estate on his father's death 1811-20, in accordance with provisions in the will of his grandfather, Alexander Junkins. Judith died 26 January 1817 and is buried in the south west corner of the homestead lot. Whether she was the first to be buried in this family lot is not definitely known but the indications are that at least two children preceded her whose graves had no stones. The stories connected with this burial plot vary. It is stated in New England Register, xxviii-269 in 1872 that "when he was asked why he started a cemetery in his front yard he would smile and answer that when he was buried he desired to be where he could hear Parson Hemingway preach on Sundays." This Parson Hemingway was the minister at Wells, Maine and evidently filled in at the 2d Parish church during the period they had no regular minister, 1806-1825. Incidentally it may be stated that this burial plot was directly across the main highway from the 2d Parish church. The other story of local tradition, and the more probable, is that the Selectmen desired to cut a road thro this side of his land; by establishing a cemetery where it was located just off the main highway they would not have authority to make the road as desired.

He married (2) 11 January 1818 Hannah Langdon, born York County, Maine in 1794, she died 29 July 1838 and is buried in the family lot. He married (3) Hannah Bragdon, born 11

January 1791, intention dated 12 December 1838. He was a farmer, does not appear to have held any public office. He died 2 July 1844 and is buried in the family lot. Some 10 or 12 years since (1925) the stones of Judith, Hannah and Alexander were made visible by slight excavations and inscriptions taken down. These three graves were all that were discovered with stones. In 1936 a personal inspection did not disclose these three stones as they were again covered with earth and grass and weeds growing thereon. No excavations were made. His estate was administered in 1844 and the "House Field" of 10 acres and 24 rods were set off to Hannah, the widow, as a part of her dower. (Prob. rec. 10629) Hannah deeded this land to Joseph H. Junkins, 14 December 1866 (Deeds 302-331) On 2 September 1844 James Grant, of York, was appointed a guardian for Henry M. and Judith Junkins, minors and children of Alexander Junkins, decsd., and gave bond for $2000 with Alexander McIntire, Joseph Moody, and Benjamin Rogers as bondsmen. (Prob. rec. 10657)

Hannah survived him many years and died 11 September 1883. She is buried in the Bragdon cemetery in Scotland Parish. No children by the last marriage.

On 14 December 1866 Hannah, widow of Alexander Junkins deeded to Joseph H. Junkins the house lot of some 10 acres etc. (deeds 302-331); in 1878 Joseph H. Junkins mortgaged this land to John McIntire. (deeds 366-144) The old Garrison House had long been abandoned as a dwelling at this date and was burned about June 1889 or 1890. On the 15 March 1892 the land was sold to George E. Grant as 10 acres, 123 rods by Hiram A. and Alvin W. Junkins, of Rollingsford, New Hampshire and sons of said Joseph H. Junkins. (deeds 444-178) The mortgage was quit-claimed by John McIntire. (deeds 440-112).

Joseph H. Junkins came to York just after the old house burned and spent the night at the home of Charles Junkins. We have no data on the death of either of them; he was apparently deceased before 15 March 1892 the date of the deed above mentioned.

James Junkins was born in Waterboro, York County, Massachusetts (District of Maine) .....

While a resident of Hollis, York County, District of Maine, James Junkins enlisted April 1, 1813, served as a private in Captain Frederick Conkling's company, 4th Regiment of United States Infantry, while assisting in building barracks at Plattsburg, sometime in December 1813, a log rolled on him and injured his left knee; he was carried to the hospital and remained about three months, returned to service, and on a march from Plattsburg to Buffalo, sometime in October 1814, he became so lame, was left at Brownville, under the care of a doctor "of the United States Army", there until sometime in May, 1815, when he came to Williamsville, New York, where he was discharged, June 1, 1815.

He continued to live in Hollis until about 1845, when he moved to Kennebunk, York County, Maine.
